

OoWee Cuisine was inspired by a love for bold flavors, comfort food, and cultures that bring people together through food. As a veteran-owned business, I wanted to create something different from your average taco truck — something fun, unforgettable, and packed with personality.

The fusion taco concept came from blending flavors I love with nostalgic comfort foods and global influences. Instead of traditional tacos, I wanted to create bold combinations like curry goat, Korean-inspired flavors, Cajun boudin mac, and street corn with an OoWee twist. Every taco is designed to be flavorful, creative, and leave people saying, “OoWee... that was just so damn good.”

At the end of the day, OoWee is about more than food — it’s about creating an experience, bringing people together, and serving flavor louder than your music.
